Weymouth Historical Society.

The February meeting of this society (which was adjourned from the previous Wednesday evening) on account of the festival in the Union Church, at which several of the officers were engaged) was held in the Tufts Library Room, President Lord in the chair. The evening was a very cold and blustering one and the attendance correspondingly small.

Samuel Bates, Esq., who had kindly consented to read his paper, upon the first church in Braintree, was not able to be present in consequence of a town meeting in that town of which he is the clerk; and in his place the secretary read a sketch of General James L. Bates, which forms a portion of the "Historical Sketch of Weymouth," now upon ready issue from the press.

The committee on papers and the preparation of business announced that arrangements have been made or are in progress which will insure the presentation of something of interest for several subsequent meetings.

The following donations were reported.

From the New England Historic Genealogical Society, of New England.

From John T. Hassan, Esq., a duplicate of the same.

From Eben Denton, Esq., "Pathfinder Railway Guide, Oct., 1882," one of the earliest editions.

From the Department of State, Washington, D. C., "The United States Consular Reports, Nos. 16 & 17, Oct. & Nov. 1884," Pamphlets.

From the Navy Department, Washington, D. C., "Report of the Secretary, for 1883," 2 vols., octavo, bound.

From the War Department, Washington, D. C., "Army Register, 1883," Unbound vol.

From the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., "Financial Report, 1884," 1 vol.

Company H. Bennett.

Perhaps no class of men prize so highly their yearly reunions as the men who fought side by side on the field of battle and now share together the stirring reminiscences of our great civil war.

Company H, of the 12th Massachusetts regiment assembled on Wednesday evening at Grand Army Hall, East Weymouth, in the same building where in '61 they met themselves in the Union cause, to celebrate according to custom their annual reunion.

Twenty-four comrades with their ladies, responded to the call and their honored commander, Capt. Chas. W. Hastings, was master of ceremonies.

On these occasions the "boys in blue" greet each other with expressions of the warmest friendship, call to mind the names of comrades who dropped in the ranks, and tell of the stories of camp and battle.

If possible, the gathering of the company on Wednesday evening was more pleasant than any previous one, and the agreeable quarters added in the success of the different arrangements.

At eight o'clock the company and guests repaired to the banquet hall, where a turkey supper had been spread by the ladies, and the good cheer was enjoyed with the keenest relish.

Headlines rapped out the company to order, and called upon Z. L. Bicknell, Esq., representing the Weymouth war board of Selectmen, for remarks, and that gentleman responded in an interesting manner.

Then James H. H. Allen, Esq., of the Allen Vinick, Esq., of the same board, had been invited, but were unable to attend. Letters of regret were read from John P. Lovell, Esq., of Weymouth, and from Mr. Alfred D. Munroe, Esq., of Weymouth.

Mr. R. E. Reed of Abington, Capt. Moses Arnold and Col. R. S. Lovell, Capt. Hastings kept the interest alive by constant reminiscences of the company and its members, besides giving excellent sketches of the battle of Gettysburg. Other remarks were made by H. A. Thomas, one of the invited guests, and comrade Joseph W. Thayer of Chelsea.

An appropriate poem by a former comrade, Mr. William W. Brown, was read by comrade Charles G. Jones, of East Weymouth.

The Haydn Quartette of East Weymouth was present, and enlivened the occasion by numerous selections, which were highly appreciated, and included "Artillery Oath, The Winds are all hushed, Song of C. Will Bailey, Battle Prayer, Three Crows, Where would I be, Soldiers Farewell.

One member, Albert Bates, had died during the year. Capt. Hastings, Capt. Garey and comrade Jones were appointed a committee to arrange for the next reunion. Mr. H. A. Thomas was unanimously elected an honorary member of the company, and the ladies had a very successful meeting and it had been good to be there.

In connection with this report it may be stated that Cyrus Washburn, Esq., who had been invited to the reunion, was the choice of the company for its 1st Lieutenant when organized, but the physician pronounced his physical condition to be a bar against military service. He kindly remembered the comrades with a donation of money, to aid in the success of the occasion.

Personal.

The Quincy Patriot caustically alludes to error in the statement concerning dogs in this town, which between hurried writing, composition and proof was somewhat mixed in its arithmetic and inaccurate language. As all newspapers are subject to these little slips and trials, the veriest tyro in quill driving, if so disposed, can often find opportunity to shy a brickbat at some brother pressman.

To support this assertion we quote the item published in a daily, giving an account of a "remarkable recovery," which states that a little girl in Georgia, named Ella Worley, was killed by a mule, and then gravely continues to narrate that a part of the fractured skull bone and some of the brain was taken out by a physician, and when the doctor called to see her again she was out at play with other children, suffering no apparent injury from the wound. If the learned editor, the intelligent compositor and critical proof reader of the big daily changing "kicked" into "killed," a local scribbler needs not to worry his soul over any short comings of neighbor contemporaries.

Deaths.

Mr. Jonas K. Davidson, who has been employed in the factory of S. W. & E. Nash, for the past twenty years, died Tuesday morning of pneumonia, aged 42. Mr. Davidson was an esteemed member of Delphi Lodge, K. of P., and the lodge held at the funeral, which was held in the Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, at 1 o'clock.

After the burial service of the church was ended, the chaplain of the Lodge, Sir K. Joshua Hiney, proceeded with the impressive funeral ritual of the Order, and the remains were then escorted to the cemetery. The floral offerings deposited on the casket were very elegant.

The Union Branch of the New England Reading Circle met with Miss L. T. Ford on French street, on Tuesday evening. The meeting was well attended and was highly enjoyable as well as profitable. The work for the evening consisted of a review of the fourth and fifth chapters of Collier's "History of the World," together with some papers on questions previously assigned, pertaining to the work already gone over. Six new members were received. The interest in this Reading Circle is steadily increasing. The circle meets in two weeks with Mrs. Richard Lloyd Hunt.

Medical.

The Choral society gave the seventh rehearsal of "The Last Judgment" Sunday evening, at Clapp's Hall, and had a large audience. On account of a severe accident to a near relative, the non-appearance of Mrs. Cushing, of the choir, was much regretted. During the evening Mr. D. A. Reed, who a quarter of a century ago was conductor of the choral society, sang "The Wind of the winter night," and in response gave a beautiful and powerful voice, proving fully equal to the demands of both numbers, and his efforts were highly satisfactory. The eighth of the series will be given next Sunday evening, when Miss Mattie Wood is expected to sing a choice selection. The rehearsals commence at 7 o'clock.

Thomas Grant lost a valuable cow last week, the animal having been sick several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hart were afflicted last week by the death of an infant child, from pneumonia.

Miss Tobey, of Boston, will address a union meeting of the Sunday school of the Landing, on the subject of temperance, next Sunday morning, in the Union church, and will lecture in the Universalist church in the evening.

The house of Dr. Forsaith, in charge of a lad, from the Post Office a short distance last Tuesday, and broke both shafts by colliding with some object near Nahant's office.

Francis Amner, Esq., and family are to be present at the dedication of the Washington Monument, and will participate in the inauguration ceremonies March 4.

The item last week, referring to the South Weymouth Choral Society, was inadvertently omitted to state that Mr. F. Raymond was chosen leader, Mr. L. Curtis being president.

A. L. Holbart, proprietor of the line of depot carriages, received last evening his new four-wheeled carriage, to be used in connection with his business.

Magie lantern views in addition to a lecture, all for 10 cents, at the Baptist vestry this evening.

Mr. John Crane has recovered from his illness and was in charge of his store all day yesterday.

Mr. Morris O'Connell, who has been sick with consumption for three years, died last Saturday, leaving a wife and four children.

Mr. Warren Stetson, brother of the late Caleb Stetson, died suddenly last week.

Calamity Wright, who has been in a decline for months past, died Monday last.

The Weymouth Star Minstrels are rehearsing once or twice a week and before long will give one of their unique and popular entertainments. Mr. Daniel H. Stetson is manager.

The concert and ball of Div. No. 4, A. O. U. M., at Clapp's hall a week ago, to-night was a success everywhere, the net proceeds being nearly $100.

The Knights of Labor expect to hold a grand concert and dance at either the Union or Clapp's hall about the middle of next month.

Mrs. Lorenzo White contemplates a trip to Washington, D. C.

Bargains may be had in boots and shoes during the bankruptcy sale at E. H. Pray's, Washington square.

L. W. Nash has in stock a line of Dr. Warner's Colic Remedy, at the low price of 90 cents per pair, and a lot of Blue Yarn, in Scarlet, Cardinal, Navy Blue and Brown, at 10c. per ball; regular price 12 cents. Store on Lincoln sq.

The chimney of the residence of Mr. James C. Wendall took fire on Tuesday evening, and considerable excitement ensued, as it was feared the house would be burned.

Louis W. Hart has taken the agency for the "New Home" sewing machine, and reports business quite good.

There will be no preaching in the Universalist church next Sunday morning, as the congregation and Sunday School unite in the Temperance service in the Union church. The Sunday School will meet as usual at 12 o'clock. The Union Temperance meeting will be held in this church at 7.30 p. m.

JAMES PYLE'S FEARLINE is highly interesting. No soap is required, and cleaning is done with a saving of much time and labor. All housekeepers should use it.

The Selectmen inform us that the schedule will be ready for distribution tomorrow or Monday.

Through the efforts of State Agent H. F. Bates and Mr. G. W. Baker, the Old Colony Corporation were induced to run a special train to convey the E. Weymouth polo club and their friends, numbering one hundred or more, to Plymouth, Thursday evening of last week, where occurred the league game between the local club of that town and the East Weymouths. Contrary to the expectation of many the latter were defeated by three straight goals. Plymouth may well feel proud of their home team, which is composed of gentlemanly young men who were conspicuous for their fairness during the progress of the game. The Plymouth rink is very commodious and is fitted up in fine manner.

EAST WEYMOUTH.

The date of the Temple of Honor anniversary has been fixed for March 13.

Mr. Frank House intends starting for Maine soon, to visit his father, who resides there.

The ward caucus will probably be held at Engine hall some evening next week.

The property of the late Isaac Reed was appraised last Saturday by Bela French, Z. L. Bicknell and W. T. Rice.

Our surveyor was busy this week putting gravel on the icy walks and making paths.

Dr. Frank Fay was in town this week. He has gained a new practice in Worcester, where he located recently.

Mr. John Cushman, of North Weymouth, has purchased the Haskins estate on East street, and will take possession March 10th.

The widow of the late Daniel Phillips, who recently arrived home from South America, has been taken to Taunton asylum for treatment.

Francis Tirell, a respected citizen, and for many years janitor of the town hall, is quite sick, suffering with gangrene on his foot.

Mr. Charles H. Pearce will have charge of the post office table at the Central hall, on French street, on Tuesday evening.

While Mr. Jos. Lincoln was strolling through Bear Swamp last Sunday, he captured alive a wild duck and a partridge. The latter escaped while being caged, but the duck he has at the present time.

Members of the W. C. T. U. will please meet at their room next Friday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, as questions of importance are to come before the meeting. If stormy Friday they will meet Saturday evening.

Services next Sunday in the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 o'clock a. m.; Sunday School at 2.30 p. m.; yespers and instructions at 3.30. During Lent there will be services every Tuesday and Friday evenings at 7.30 p. m.

The severe storm of Monday evening caused the postponement of the Reform Club entertainment, which was to be given at the Congl church vestry last Monday evening. It will occur at the same place on the coming Monday evening, Feb. 23d.

As far as we can learn the voters of ward two are satisfied with the present town officers, and we expect no radical change will be made at the annual meeting. The canvassing will be more light on the subject and matters may take another turn.

Mr. Ebenezer L. Pool, an old gentleman living on Middle street, fell on the ice at his home Wednesday morning, and sustained a fracture of his hip, which he cannot leave the house. He is being attended by Dr. Fay.

There will be another Bible reading at Mrs. H. H. Reed's on Wednesday evening, Feb. 27, by Miss Vincent, of Boston. There was a good attendance at the last reading, which was a very clear presentation of Bible truth. It will commence with praise service.

All are cordially invited.

Michael Roach reports that he was knocked down near the foundry last Saturday evening about 11 o'clock, and robbed of all the money he had on his person, $40. Besides taking his money, the assailant beat him severely on the head and sustaining injuries, the effects of which cannot be learned at the time of writing. Dr. Fay was called to attend him.
